

Facilitator training eco-creativity studies

- inter-connection between people & nature
- connecting hearts through the arts
- discover your gift to give
- passionate involvement
- compassionate ecology
- creative arts studies

Learn how to facilitate creative art classes inspiring others to tell their story through dance, writing, poetry, painting, drawing, clay-moulding, singing, sewing, gardening, meditation, talking circle, ceremonies.

eco-creativity facilitator training invites you to connect to your compassion and inspiration to give back to others and nature - compassionate ecology. This course is designed to connect you to your compassionate presence and give you methods and unique practices that allow you to facilitate groups of people to connect deeply and authentically, to ignite synergy and help direct productive activity.

